site accreditat on standards are outcome

medical training site accreditat on standards

Policies and processes operat onalising the specialist medical training site accreditat on standards should be accurately and appropriately documented. Colleges should ensure these documents are accessible, made publicly available, and supported by appropriate sta training.

Accreditat on frameworks, standards and policies should clarify obligat ons monitoring of accredited specialist medical training sites.

Colleges should clarify how specialist medical training sites are monitored during the accreditat on cycle in relevant standards and policies with reference to how concerns about a training site will be managed.
The AMC should work with colleges and other relevant stakeholders to develop guiding principles and a risk-based framework to ensure a fair and proport onate response to noncompliance with the specialist medical training site accreditat on standards.
The AMC should work with colleges to ensure merits review processes for decisions relating to specialist medical training site accreditation align with the best practice principles in this report.

NHPO Recommendat on